E PLURIBUS UNUM.

"These publications of the day should from time to time be winnowed, the wheat carefully preserved, and the chaff thrown away."

"Made up of every creature's best."

"Various, that the mind
Of desultory man, studious of change
And pleased with novelty, may be indulged."

1. The first of the "Three Great Principles" is that of "the right of the individual to the free exercise of his religious beliefs." This principle is the foundation of the entire system of religious freedom, and it is the duty of the State to protect it against all forms of interference.

CHAPTER II

2. The second of the "Three Great Principles" is that of "the right of the individual to the free exercise of his civil rights." This principle is the foundation of the entire system of civil liberty, and it is the duty of the State to protect it against all forms of interference.
